HetrixTools Setup

HetrixTools is the tool that we use to monitor your dedicated machines. It's designed to notify us about any faults that may occur and help us determine the issue quickly so we can get the issue fixed immediately.

Head over to https://hetrixtools.com/register and create an account with your information. Please use a randomly generated password as we will require this login to setup your dedicated systems.

After you have registered you need to confirm your email. Failing to do this will result in us not being able to configure monitoring on your systems. Once verified, provide us the login.
